CENTRAL KITSAP FIRE & RESCUE

Chief Oliver led Carl Tesch in the Oath of Office for his promotion to Apparatus Operator

"Battalion Chief Platz had the honor to stop by the retirement celebration for KCSO Detective, Ray Stroble, last weekend. Thanks for his many years of law enforcement service to our community!"

CKFR New Hires! Introducing....

Devion Hagen

I was raised in Homer, Alaska with my four brothers and eldest sister. I moved to the Seattle area thirteen years ago and have worked as an Alaska commercial fisherman, server at El Gaucho in Bellevue, and as a union drywall finisher, most recently remodeling the Space Needle. Within the past two years, I attended North Seattle College to attain my EMT certification, served as a volunteer firefighter at KCFD20 and volunteered as a Company Officer at the Washington State FTA.

*My wife, Timmi and I are raising four children (Jadin 17, Ruby 4, Reese 2, and Juniper 1) and we see Central Kitsap as a wonderful community in which to serve and raise a family. Apart from snuggle time, my favorite things are snowboarding, sharing music with the kids (we just had our first 'Queen' dance party), reading, and running.

Lacey Newman

My name's Lacey Newman. I grew up here in Central Kitsap and currently live in Seabeck.

I went to Klahowya Secondary School and then continued my education at Central Washington University, where I got a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology.

I've been working as a Flight Attendant with Alaska Airlines for about 5 years now and have been volunteering with CKFR for the past 2 years. In my free time, I enjoy fishing, hiking, and spending time with my family.

Jesse Graham

My name is Jesse Graham and I am excited for this opportunity to serve Kitsap County! I recently married my best friend, Amanda, this summer. We love traveling and camping and both have family in the area. As we start our own family, we look forward to being surrounded by the beautiful PNW and our relatives!

Just another reminder....

Washington's Paid Family and Medical Leave program is starting soon.

Let's all get ready to be there for care.

Starting January 2019, Washington employees and many employers will begin investing in a statewide program that will provide paid leave to give or receive care.

When the benefits begin in 2020, Paid Family and Medical Leave will support Washingtonians, whether they are recovering from a serious illness or injury, caring for a new child or helping an aging parent. It means workers won't have to choose between a paycheck and caring for their health and their family.

What it is:

The program is mandatory because the spirit behind this benefit is one of understanding that at some time we all need—or need to give—extra care and attention.

Who's eligible:

Nearly every Washington employee who works at least 820 hours (approximately 16 hours weekly) qualifies for the program. All paid work counts toward the 820 hours, including part-time, seasonal and temporary work. To learn more, visit paidleave.wa.gov/workers.

Benefit details:

- Allows up to 12 weeks of paid leave, or up to 18 weeks in certain circumstances.
- Workers receive between $100 and $1,000 per week, depending on income.

Your contribution:

To build this insurance program, on January 1, 2019 you may see a premium set aside from your paycheck, like you see for Medicare. The total premium is 0.4% of your wages and may be shared between an employee and employer. For an employee earning $50,000 a year, the maximum premium is just $2.44 a week.

Visit paidleave.wa.gov to calculate your contribution and learn more about how you can take time for care.
